January Record Shattered Again By Glades Rain

A study of adverse weather conditions recently released shows that only one rainfall record fell in January while low temperatures approached but did not exceed extremes in that category.

Based on climatological report issued recently by D. S. Harrison and Edward King, Jr. at the Everglades Experiment Station and information supplied this week, the following information is presented.

January 1937 had the most rainfall recorded since 1924, with 11.5 inches falling during the month. The record for the year was 27 with 6.03 inches. The corresponding mark this year was a 2.45 inch report on Jan. 22.

Incidentally, the report shows December 1937 the wettest December on record with 4.39 in. Temperatures showed the coldest side of the story. Coldest day in 1937 was Jan. 1 with 37 degrees. Coldest day in January 1938 was 30 on the 5th with heavy frost.

On Feb. 5 this year the mercury hit 28, and the frost was heavier. Only one other cold reading was made in the past 40 months, a 27 on Dec. 12. One cannot discount the weather's effect on the agricultural area, however, statistically speaking things have been worse.

Coldest temperature ever recorded at the Experiment Station was a 24 in January 1940. It was 25 on one day in December.

Special Council Session Approves Swimming Pool

At a special meeting of the Belle Glade City Commission Tuesday night, the two swimming pools recently proposed were approved by a unanimous vote of the four councilmen present.

Commissioner Walter Debbey was ill.

The action was necessary before the final payments on the pools could be made to D. E. Britt, Carter Construction Co. and B. A. Roemer Construction Co.

Total cost of the pools was $196,000, the bond issue netted $191,000 and there was a $40,000 donation fund held by the city.

Oseola Rangers - Modern Archers

NOT ROBIN HOOD or his merry fellows, but Rangers, members of an archery club at Oseola, are the members of which makes its own bows and arrows while learning self-respect and character traits. These three (L-R) Julian Griggs, assistant supervisor of the club, Windsor Tyler, club president, and Robert Baker, sponsor of the club, are at the Oseola Club luncheon to explain their club work.

The 15 member club was set for regional matches when the January fire destroyed nearly $500 worth of their equipment similar to the handwork shown above valued at $10 to $50 each.

Legion Post 20 Names Eggleston As Third Vice Commander Here

Following an executive board meeting of the American Legion Post 20 here, William Eggleston was named to succeed Clyde Clayton as the post's third vice president.

Eggleston, a former judge advocate and executive committee member, has served as third vice president previously. The term expires in May. Clayton moved to West Palm Beach.

Principal responsibility of Eggleston's post will be the supervision of the honor guard.

In other business at the executive meeting, Finance Officer Milton Giese announced that the Legion has paid interest on all bonds up to date and all other bills have been made current with sufficient funds.

Thus, the financial situation is in good order.

Nursery Workers Get Other Homes After Fire Here

Staff members at the Oseola Center nursery have been relocated in other homes following the $15,000 fire which completely destroyed the one-story frame building there Sat.

Workers expected to complete the renovation of the building to carry on the function which the destroyed building housed. Mrs. Ruth Griggs said the loss of equipment in the building would push the total even higher.

More than $1,000 in shop equipment, hand tools, kitchen and nursery supplies as well as 1935 stock, was marked near the burning home.

Labor homes have been made available to Tom and Jean Connelley, Miss Leah Keller, Sylvia Hixson and Roberta Varney, all members of the Church of the Brethren under the voluntary or alternate service program of that institution, who work at the nursery under the Florida Christian Ministry to Migrants, Harry Rinehart, owner of the car which was destroyed, lived elsewhere.

No immediate plans for replacing the building were announced by Belle Glade Housing Authority officials.

Belle Glade Fire Chief L. E. Will said the apparent cause of the fire was some youngsters.

Even though old-time big top is dead, Florida State University's world famous collegiate circus, Flying High, is alive and kicking.

Lunched nine years ago by a physical education professor Jack Haskin, now mainly known as "Circus Coach" at FSU, the all-star circus has become stronger and more widely known every year of its life.

Flying High played to its largest crowd yesterday, an estimated 75 million, over the TV network on the Seaside Big Top Hour and the Dave Garraway show.

Bowen has come to the university circus through favors in such matters as Life, Sevens and The American, in foreign newspapers and periodicals.

Mobile Clinic Examines Glades Youngsters

BETTER DENTAL HEALTH is the result of the recent visit of a mobile dental clinic from the Florida State Board of Health. Community-minded helpers pitched in to help with the examinations.

The dental program being conducted by the Florida State Board of Health and sponsored locally by the Glades Committee on Migrant Education was reportedly progressing nicely at the unit wound up activity this week.

After the unit screened children here and did some work they moved on to the South Bay and Lake Harbor schools, then back to Oseola Center.

The unit will visit the Canal Point-Pahokee area next week. Pelton Morris, Belle Glade elementary principal and chairman of the migrant committee, said 265 children were checked at the school, 207 were found to be in definite need of care with cavities averaging five or six per child.

At Belle Glade Elementary the dentist treated 24 patients, making 25 extractions and 40 fillings. Patients were first and second graders.

More expressed his appreciation for the unit, the local organizations helping with their assistance and the workers who included Mesdames Henry Blum, Richard Murphy, William Wood, Frank Anderson, F. L. Harris and Emil Wolf.

This week's BUY-RIME is a toughie to rhyme, but someone had to win, and the judges picked an entry sent to us by Mrs. Mary King, a Belle Glade sales clerk.

The hidden slogan: "You Can't beat 'em why not join 'em," was cleverly rhymed with "For budget saving you can really coin 'em." Why not see what she meant by shopping in the Glades this week?

Chamber Directors Rap Snowbirds By Urging Controls

Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce directors strongly urged their solicitation control program was only as strong as the cooperation of its members at the Tuesday board meeting at the chamber office.

The board urged businessmen and housewives to refer peddlers and solicitors and other salesmen to the chamber if they have not been given chamber approval cards.

Past president Russell Tucker stressed urging business to the chamber but called upon the citizens to advise the chamber so that the practice of snowbirds could be stopped.

Cattle Problem Still Acute Here

President of the Palm Beach County Cattlemen's Assn., Roscoe Braddock, said this week that the cattle problem remains serious; however, there was a ray of hope if better weather conditions could be brought about.

Braddock stressed one point: "We're getting credit for free federal feed which we're not getting on the county." No one can qualify for it because they still have calves, he pointed out.

No loss of steers has been reported; however, some cows have been lost in breeding herds. Rains have killed ryegrass, but some ranchers are feeding pellets where they have the facilities and some grazing grass can be found.

SRD Repairs Main Street

Florida State Road Department workers were at work Tuesday in an all-day task of repairing a bump on the south end of the Main Street bridge.

The asphalt patching operation caused a minor bottleneck on the street which was not serious.

Action on the street repair came after Mrs. Edwina Young, executive secretary of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, urged state consideration of the needed repair. The request for repair was made late last week.

Some Salvage Is Possible From Last Cold Wave

State Agriculture officials dition the worst in history, or have termed this winter's count, at least in the past 40 years. Temperatures hit new lows in the Glades area, but reliable sources agree that much of the produce will be salvaged.

One isolated 20 degree frost was recorded by the Frost Warning Service. Other parts of the area ranged 22-29 Wednesday. Tender leaf vegetables are hurt; however, hearty crops are expected to pull through the latest frost-freeze.

Cherry left real estate worth about $5,000 and personal property estimated at $1,600. The above information was contained in a petition accompanying his will filed in probate court.

Dated June 23, 1940, the will appointed Mrs. Cherry executrix without bond.

Surplus Food Supply Will Be Dispersed From Armory

Distribution of surplus food commodities began Thursday at Belle Glade and Pahokee when supplies were allocated from those already supplied in Broward and Dade Counties. The action was announced at a meeting of committees at the Community Methodist Church at Belle Glade Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Salvation Army representatives will be responsible for the first distribution of rice, flour, meal, cheese and powdered milk using as guide the case studies of the Emergency Migrant Committee. Food stuffs distributed in this manner are to last two weeks and a second distribution is planned at that time. More surplus items are made available through the State Department of Public Welfare, states Roy Michael, county fair as chairman.

The Belle Glade National Guard Armory is distribution point here with Mrs. Vernon Powers as chairman of this district. The Coca Cola Bottling Co. at Pahokee is the second distribution point for the north lake area with Mrs. Ralph Chasins as chairman.

Generally, food will be distributed first to those who have been out of work since December 11. Food will not be issued to anyone who has a job or who may have quit a job to get the money.

Local sources must still provide funds to pay for those already helped, some 14 families. Local contributions must account for baby milk, shortening and other supplies to supplement the commodities distribution.

A report from the Migrant Committee says: The emergency committee is in a spot with the acute pressure from the people, people and no funds to

City and County Confer. On Ave. E

Palm Beach County Engineer Stephen R. Middleton, in a letter dated Jan. 31, told Mayor William Evans at Belle Glade that plans should be submitted to the county on the proposed sewer and water pipes along Avenue E before new street construction could begin.

Middleton said appraisals of the cost of moving buildings and other improvements on the street to make room for the construction should begin shortly.

"Following the acquisition of the right of way, the work will be put under contract," he said.

City Manager Clarence Robinson said he had answered the letter Wednesday by saying that Russell & Axon representatives at Lake Worth would confer with the county because of the need to have a sure thing the county wanted to do.

Robinson said he's been trying to expedite the matter for some time without too much results.

Tot Dies Monday In Pahokee Fire

Two-year-old William Barton son of Mrs. Marjorie Barton, died Monday morning and 30 other persons were made homeless in a fire which destroyed an 80 by 15 foot dwelling at Hull's quarters at Pahokee.

A 16-month-old Ruby Mae Jackson, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Jackson was taken to Evelyn Hospital for treatment for burns received.

Samuel Jackson, who rescued the Jackson tot, was overcome by smoke when he tried to rescue the Barton child.

Butler Bryant, who was fighting the fire, was injured when a piece of tin from the roof struck his hand.

The fire chief Marvin Levins said strong winds fanned the fire out of control.

Heat water the modern way!

NO VENTS
NO FLAME
NO FLUES
NO FUMES
NO PILOT LIGHT

In Florida, MODERN means ELECTRIC!

HERE'S WHY ELECTRIC WATER HEATING BEATS ALL OTHER METHODS:

- * Safest—No open flames, no pilot light...safe as an electric light bulb.
- * Cleanest—No soot to soil walls, curtains, furnishings. Cleaning is easier.
- * Coolest—One-third to one-half less heat units are needed. Your home stays cooler, you are at an air conditioning—get greater comfort from smaller units at lower installation and operating costs.
- * Cheapest—It's cheaper to go all-electric than to use a combination of both in your kitchen/bath.
- * Simplest—Electric heat is anywhere. No costly fans or vents, no long, extensive piping.

NEGRO NEWS

Some Relief In Sight For Lake Shore Elementary

Floor joists and sidewalk piling have already been placed in a $52,000 school construction program at Lake Shore Elementary School at Belle Glade which contractors Blanton and Unwin expected the floor to be poured this week. The four new classrooms being built are a cut-down version of the seven originally planned at this time. Principal E. H. Fitzgerald said the addition would greatly relieve acute crowding of students, but the four rooms were only a start to the problem. He said he was considering a request to county school officials that work be assigned to complete the three additional rooms previously called for in the planning. Present membership of the school is 925 with 22 rooms which to put them. Most rooms have more than 40 pupils in a class with the high being 48.

One class of first graders meets in the clinic room. Two of the four rooms will be used to house a library until a separate library is built. Contractors have placed an Apr. 29 target date for completion of their work, weather permitting. The creation of space for 120 students brings a need for more teachers to the faculty, Fitzgerald explained. At least two and possibly three teachers will be requested for assignment at Lake Shore.

Negro Deaths

John W. Goins, 50, 650 SW 8th St., Belle Glade, died Feb. 1st at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage. A four-year resident here, he was employed by the A. D. H. Construction Co. at Miami. The remains have been shipped to Cardell, Ga. for services in charge of Dewdelle Funeral Home.

The remains of Willie Mae Barnes, 37, 332 SW 6th St., Belle Glade, have been shipped to Panama City for services following her death at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital, Jan. 31, of a heart ailment. She is survived by her husband, Cephus, and her mother, Mary Williams. The deceased had been a resident of this city for 16 years.

Music Festival Planned For March 12 For All County Negro Schools

Five Glades and five east coast schools will participate, she said. Each group will have about 35 participants. Bay has chosen Thanksgiving. Okechobee Elementary, Easter. East Lake Elementary at Pahokee, Armistice Day. Canal Point School, Spanish fiesta, and Lake Shore Elementary, Immaculate Conception Day. Miss Scott is the Glades area itinerant music teacher.

PTA Meets At Lake Shore School Monday

Members of Lake Shore PTA met Monday night at the school where cold weather prevented a large turnout. Coffee refreshments were served in commemoration of PTA Founder's Day. The group also made plans for the Feb. 17 meeting when a state board of health dental worker will present a film and talk on dental care.

A discussion of the work of the migrant emergency committee was held and PTA members agreed to give aid by furnishing workers to assist the work of the committee.

Glades Curriculum Study Group Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Curriculum Study Group of Glades Schools met Friday night at Lake Shore Elementary where about 65 teachers from various schools studied curriculum improvement techniques.

This month's phase dealt with reading techniques in grades one through six. Chairman of the study group is Mrs. E. P. Mitchell, Canal Point Elementary principal.

Next month's meeting will be held Mar. 3 at Okechobee Elementary School when the topic for study will be phonics.

Sent To Criminal Court

William Clark, negro, has been committed to Criminal Court at West Palm Beach following a hearing this week in Justice of the Peace Court at Belle Glade.

Clark is charged with embezzlement. Clark allegedly added the payroll of A. Wells and Son Farms at Bean City, by including the name of a McNeal Smith who actually wasn't working with the company. The checks amounted to $117. Clark was a timekeeper for Wells.

Conference Struggle Gains Momentum Here

Lake Shore Bobcats put their 7-1, second place Southwestern Athletic Conference basketball mark on the line Wednesday night to face first place Clifford sporting a 10-0 perfect slate. Tonight the Cats play Munroe High of Cocoa here and visit Harlem Academy of Cleveland Monday.

In games played this week and last weekend, Lake Shore won 72-21 over Moore Haven Jan. 29; lost 50-43 to Northwestern of Miami, and chased Carver of Delray Beach away 55-29. The season mark is now 8-4.

Teenage Program Gets Underway

The girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell, selected Carrie Jernigan president and Anne Belle Alexander secretary and will plan a Valentine Day Hop Feb. 14 for the entire group.

Like the traditional professional circus, the collegiate version is an outdoor show. Every fall it hits the road to give performances in small towns as well as cities throughout Florida, Georgia and Alabama as well as two trips to Philadelphia.

Coch Haskins prefers to play towns of about 50,000, being the news, "Circus is coming to town," electrifying the crowd parents as well as toddlers turn out because there is little if any scheduled entertainment to compete with circus.

Flying High has no labor or high cost problems, and a few weather worries. Outdoor rehearsals are held year-round at the circus practice field on the campus in Tallahassee. Visitors are always welcome at the field and often see performances worth an admission price.

All students enrolled in the university can go out for circus. Tryouts are held annually in the fall, and the most promising performers are chosen.

Coach Haskins and his assistant, Jim DeCosto, limit the troupe to about 150 for best results. Since there are veteran hold-over performers, sophomores, juniors and seniors, only 50 to 60 new students can be taken into the troupe each year.

After intensive daily practices in the fall, the circus is ready for road trips about November 1. Trips are scheduled on weekends so as not to interfere with class work.

50 to 60 student performers make each road trip. The schedule is planned so that every member of the troupe makes several trips, providing he is maintaining a C or better scholastic average.

The troupe travels in its own clown-decorated circus bus, and carries its own equipment. Advances carry the student riggers and heaviest equipment.

Out of town shows are arranged by Haskins or DeCosto. The Belle Glade Rotary sponsors the FSU circus as a benefit February 22, at the football field and additional money over expenses go to the Belle Glade Rotary for charity.

Students of the Junior class and Civic Club of the local high school are now selling tickets. The troupe is closely knit organization. The coaches, Haskins and DeCosto and troupe have even more fun than their fans.

"But SWEETPEAS, SALLY!
and me the Orchid type!"

Crisis. Absolute crisis. With the worst yet to come. Pity the young beau who really cooked his goose when he let the florist talk him out of orchids!
"Blowing your top" is just one thing your telephone is for. Mostly it means fun, companionship, peace-of-mind. It's really so much a part of good Southern living that folks take it for granted like grits and sunshine.
